Troubleshooting

Depending on your network security features, the shopping cart will keep all of your transactions information while you shop. If you experience any trouble during the purchasing process or the payment process click the refresh button on your internet browser to reload the shopping cart.

There are several required fields that must be answered before you are allowed to move to the next screen. There will be a red box or notation if you miss one.

If you are paying with a credit card please double check the credit card information and make sure that the billing address matches the credit card's billing address, the payment processor uses several methods to avoid fraud, if any information does not match, you will receive an error message. If this error message is consistent reach out to your credit card provider or choose the invoice option and you will have to mail a check.
